"4. Two Circuit Seats in the 19th Judicial Circuit to be filled as of January 1, 2018 with current funding appropriated to Circuit Courts hereunder on January 1, 2018."

Explanation:

(This amendment authorizes funding for two vacant judicial seats in the 19th Judicial Circuit (Fairfax County) to be filled on January 1, 2018. One seat is currently funded, and one is currently unfunded. This amendment would delay the filling of the funded position by six months and would reallocate the savings resulting from this delay to provide six months of funding for the unfunded position.)

Explanation:

(This amendment provides an appropriation to the Corrections Special Reserve Fund to reflect the estimated impact on utilization of beds in the Commonwealth's Adult Correctional Centers resulting in changes in criminal sentencing pursuant to House Bill 2062, which amends several sections of the Code of Virginia to expand the definition of law enforcement officer to include sworn municipal park rangers. These amendments affect several code sections relating to offenses against law enforcement officers, resulting in an indeterminate impact on utilization of state correctional beds.)

Explanation:

(This amendment provides $250,000 the second year for the STEP pilot Program in Newport News, which offers summer employment opportunities for at-risk young adults. The STEP program is a summer employment program for Opportunity Youth that offers employment over the course of the summer months to help deter juvenile delinquency while school is in recess. It also goes up to age 24 and helps young adults gain more training and workforce development after graduation from high school. In 2015, the City had about 350 students to participate and in conjunction with a student enrichment program, is attributed to reducing juvenile arrests by 27% during the summer months. The students were limited to those that lived in the Southeast NN, an area that battles with high concentrated pockets of poverty, high rates of violent crime, and gang activity. In 2016, the program was expanded by 160 youth to 500 students and the areas where they could apply were expanded as well, as these problems are not solely located in the Southeast section. The students are hired and paid by the City and placed for employment experiences at local businesses. Not only do they earn a paycheck and independence, they gain on-the-job training and job-preparation skill in their experience. Each year, workers have hired for permanent positions that came from the summer program. The city is looking to keep the expanded numbers of youth or reduce the number of students and extend the timeframe of the program to last longer than just the summer. The money would provide help to maintain the program at the expanded capacity. The decrease in arrests and decrease in crime translates to lives saved.)
